Why Care About Pat Carlson? (We Do — and With Good Reason)

The son of a farmer, this year's Arch Award-recipient for Distinguished Alumni Award for Lifetime Achievement weighs in on everything under the sun, from pinching perogies and launching five energy companies to thoughts on climate change and marriage at 19. This feature by Deb Cummings, MEd'17, takes a look at the fascinating career, life and family of this energy entrepreneur, philanthropist and father of three.

Winter Olympian Shines as an Artist at the Paris 2024 Games

Few athletes will participate in either the Winter or Summer Olympics, and even fewer manage to do both. But Brooklyn McDougall, BSc'21, an Olympic speed skater can now count herself in this elite group. Instead of chasing medals in Paris, McDougall traded her skates for a paintbrush, using her artistic talents to make her mark on the world's biggest stage.
